Information on who they are and how to contact them will be given to you upon the start of your classes.

Once more, welcome. All of us in FAST are looking forward to heading into the new academic year with you. Sheridan College is a renowned post-secondary institution with a rich past and an exciting future—I hope that you take the time to explore your Faculty and everything else the College has to offer and that you find that your time here is fulfilling, both academically and personally.
